Silverware Chooses KwikTag Document Imaging for its Customers

New partnership adds value, Microsoft Dynamics NAV customers to benefit

Phoenix, AZ, – September 23, 2009 – Silverware, a Microsoft Certified Partner specializing in ERP solutions for mid-sized manufacturers, distributors and service business, today announced that it has entered a partnership with ImageTag, developer of the award-winning KwikTag document imaging software for Microsoft Dynamics ERP business applications. To help companies take advantage of all the benefits of digital filing, Silverware will provide software, services and support for its customers.

Applicable to any industry, KwikTag is a patented, enterprise-level, business-critical solution that streamlines paper-intensive business activities and processes. The software is deployed on a distributed capture appliance (DCA) that enables deeper, seamless and more rapid integration with Microsoft Dynamics business solutions, Microsoft SharePoint and other enterprise applications. The appliance form-factor also increases value for Silverware customers by providing a rapid return on investment.

“We partnered with ImageTag in response to numerous customer requests for help implementing paperless office initiatives and improving access to critical business documents,” said David Thikoll, Silverware’s Director of Business Development. “KwikTag cuts down on paper while providing users better access to critical business documents for decision making and collaborative workflow.”

“We are truly excited to partner with Silverware”, said Jon Michaels, VP of Sales and Marketing for ImageTag. “Our relationship with Silverware represents a fantastic opportunity for us to bring even better paper management solutions to a marketplace that is starving for elegance, efficiency and productivity. KwikTag’s seamless integration with Silverware’s customized business management solutions will provide immediate value, Return-On-Investment and bottom line savings to our customers.”
